Prize Farmer Will Go to Washington

George Cooper Assured of Trip Across Continent For His Achievement in Boys' Agricultural Club

When it became known at the end of last week that there was a shortage in the fund to send Sonoma Valley's prize boy farmer, George Cooper on his trip to Washington, there was a hurried consultation among his many friends and admirers and within twenty four hours the necessary $100, which was lacking, was being showered upon the happy boy. As a result he will board the "special" Sunday morning with the other thirty four boys, who will look over all the farming territory between here and the Atlantic and be royally entertained at every point of interest en route.

The preliminary events have been most note worthy.

The greatest convention of boys agricultural clubs ever held in any State, took place at the University farm at Davis from Thursday afternoon, October 14, to Saturday morning, October 16, two hundred and fifty boys representing fifty five out of the sixty five boys' clubs organized by the University of California, were in attendance.

Principal Rowell of the Sonoma Valley Union High School in commenting on the work of the boys club said:

"Uncle Sam is well pleased with the work of his boys in Sonoma for they have made a record for their locality. The crop growing contests conducted under the direction of the U. S. Government through the University of California during the past season have closed and the boys who participated are better for the experience; the community is benefited by this activity; the state is richer as a result of the records in crop production created by the sturdy boys in a hundred wholesome agricultural contests in every part of California. The nation is better off because a group of Sonoma boys are numbered among the 150,000 boys and girls who are making a record in Agriculture all over the the United States.

The judges, after visiting each separate field during our growing season, after carefully comparing the products with reference to quality and quantity and after taking every factor with thoughtful consideration awarded the honor of first place in Sonoma's potato contest to George Cooper.

The the Boys' Club work is worth while is very evident if one reads the article in the September and October issues of the American Magazine. To quote—"Within three years the corn crop of South Carolina jumped from 17,000,000 bushels a year to 50,000,000! The corn crop of other states has doubled and the yield per acre has increased in every state since a boy, Jerry Moore, made a record of 228 bushels per acre."

WEDDING DAYS CELEBRATED

October ninth 1879 in old Virginia, was the wedding day of Mildred Bear and William H. Hanger; October ninth 1906, Pearl Hanger the winsome daughter of this couple from the sunny south, was united in marriage to Ray Hunter in old Sonoma and last Saturday the ninth of October 1915, the two generations celebrated their thirty sixth and ninth anniversaries at a delightful home dinner in true southern fashion.

The pretty colonial house, which the two families recently built and occupy was brilliantly illuminated for the occasion and the decorations of pink roses and autumn foliage lent charm to the attractive table. Covers were laid for the immediate family and for the invited guests, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Duhring and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Ryland.

A most enjoyable evening was spent around the festive board and the heartiest of congratulations bestowed upon the esteemed couples, who have passed another milestone in their harmonious journey together through life.

Both daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Hanger were married on their parent's ann versary day and had Mr. and Mrs. Pommeroy been able to have been present, there would have been yet another couple to shower with good wishes and congratulations.

Card Party

The card party given at the Womans Club Thursday evening was participated in by about twenty enthusiasts. The ladies prize went to Mrs. A. S. Luce and Geo. Leiser took the honors for best gentleman player.

Would Connect With State Highway

Campaign is Being Inagurated to Build Connecting Links to Attract Travel into Heart of Valley

A movement of the greatest possible importance to the development of Sonoma valley is the one now on foot to build connecting links between the State Highway and subsidiary routes of travel into Sonoma, up into the heart of the resort section and on to Glen Ellen, Kenwood and Santa Rosa.

While not taking definite shape the project is being seriously considered by an earnest number of our most progressive and far seeing citizens who will leave no stone unturned to launch a campaign for this road building before very long. While one unit might be done at a time it is pointed out that traffic will never be diverted this way for our immediate benefit unless we have highways equally as inviting as the main thoroughfare. To turn the stream of travel past our very doors, will be up to the citizens having our valley's development at heart For this purpose if for no other, the Chamber of Commerce is being urged to work in unison.

When asked concering this undertaking, President Thomson said "It is the reason why the Chamber of Commerce will and must succeed. Those who are unmoved by little dissension take the ground that for the attainment of this big matter of connecting up with the State Highway we will all pull together in the fine spirit that should characterize the undertaking. It is only through the concerted action of a body of this kind that such work can be successfully put through and the citizens of Sonoma Valley will not be slow to respond nor to give their moral and financial support to the undertaking when called upon to act. Proper presentation and earnest appeal will ensure success."

CATHOLIC LADIES AUTUMN FESTIVAL

The program for the bazaar and Autumn festival of the ladies of St. Frances Church will be most enjoyable. While it is regretted that Landers Stevens cannot appear the substitution of other high class talent will be equally attractive and with the general good time and dancing the two evenings entertainment will attract a record attendance.

On Saturday night twelve young ladies will give the Horn Pipe dance in costume. There will be a duet "Ave Maria," by Al Jansen and Mrs Emparan; an instrumental solo by Miss Emily Poppe; a vocal solo by T. Syne and a comedy act by Belding and Snyder two bright and particular stars direct from the Orpheum circuit San Francisco.

Monday evening the program includes a doll drill by the pupils of the Presentation Convent; violin solo, Mr. Knolle; recitation, Master Powers; vocal solo, Fred Helberg and classic poses and exhibition by Professor Dan Smith, the boy of eighty three.

A large number of tickets have been sold and the various booths are providing for the big crowd which is sure to patronize this ever worthy cause.

No admittance will be charged for children.

Bal Masque at Kenwood Club on Hallowe'en

The Kenwood Womans Club who have the honor of having one of the prettiest club houses in this section, is planning a delightful bal masque for Hallowe'en. Most attractive costumes are being made by those who will compete for the several cash prizes to be offered.

The affair is for the benefit of the the club house and all dancers will be welcomed.

MRS. WATT ENTERTAINS LADIES AID

The Ladies Aid of the Congregational Church met at the home of Mrs. "Dick" Watt, Tuesday afternoon and the fourty four members present attested the thriving condition of this active group of ladies and also the popularity of the hostess of the day.

Nimble fingers flew as the many beautiful pieces of fancy work for the coming bazaar were being finished and repartee and social chatter were interspersed with the more practical discussion of purchasing new table service for church dinner giving..

It was announced that all plans for the bazaar entertainment were complete. An attractive musical program also a farce "A Musical Bore" will be presented next Friday evening. Mrs. Rowell and Miss E. Poppe have charge of the musical program which will include a trio by Misses Weber, Poppe and Bates; a quartette by Messrs. Busby, Knolle; Rowell and Jensen; orchestral numbers and a solo by Miss Henrietta Weber.

The announcement of the splendid talent and report of various committees was received with much enthusiasm and the ladies concluded the highly successful meeting with an hour around an attractive tea table.

George Breitenbach is still very sick and unable to leave his home.

The many friends of Mrs. McElney, who was operated upon by Dr. Thomson last week, will be glad to know that she is doing nicely.

A jolly character party was given Mrs. J. E. Poppe this week. Those who participated costumed themselves most ridicuously and having provided themselves with e qually funny gifts appeared unexpectedly at the Poppe home where they proceeded to make merry.

MRS. G. H. HOTZ HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

While dressing for an entertainment one night this week, Mrs. G. H. Hotz the prominent club woman and church worker had a narrow escape from serious injury if not death. With rare presence of mind she smothered flames, which enveloped her when her dressing gown caught fire and before help reached her, had put out the fire. The accident was due to an alcohol stove, which ignited the flowing sleeve of her garment, while heating a curling iron.

Dr. Butler, assistant superintendant at the Sonoma State Home, was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Gobar Sunday.

A "comfy" air of genuine camaraderie prevailed at the pretty bungalow of Mrs. Claude Johnson yesterday, when a reunion of an old time sewing club was held in honor of Mrs. McMullin's approaching nuptials. The mothers of the members were also included and a delightful afternoon was spent.

Experts From University Look Over Plaza

Professor Stephens and Assistant S. Navon Go Over Historic Ground and Take Much Data Which Will be Used in Planning Valuable Improvements

As promised in these columns last week, the University of California sent two of its trained experts on parks and landscape architecture to look over our historic plaza. Professor Stephens and S. Navon his assistant came up on Monday from Berkeley and confered with the City Trustees and a committee from the Womans Club. The ground was thoroughly gone over and all data of value in the plan of beautification was furnished the distinguished visitors, who spoke very enthusiastically of the possibilities for a fine park in Sonoma. They believe that the eight acres which comprise the plaza, can be made most attractive by laying out broad walks leading to the principal thoroughfares, by preserving some of the finest old trees, planting new shrubs and flowers, making provision for more monuments and otherwise completing and harmonizing work already done.

Mr. Navon spoke of the exceptional possibilities of the north east corner of the plaza because of its historic association and its proximity to the old Mission. He offered it as a suggestion that the Native Sons should erect a hall in this part of town and so have in Sonoma a historic California centre so to speak.

The gentlemen returned to Berkeley Tuesday carrying with them a complete detailed plan of the plaza and its environment and will go to work at once to work out the beautification scheme. Having become thoroughly imbued with the spirit of the place and seen its possibilities, the work undoubtedly will be highly successful. The City Trustees have appropriated $1000 for plaza improvement and $1500 for macadamizing the streets around the famous square. The present improvements have been largely due to the efforts of the Woman's Club, who have cooperated with the Trustees at all times in an effort to make this an attractive mecca for visitors.

Brush Off the Chip On Your Shoulder and Boost.

A little confidential talk is often helpful and while those who hand it out are not a bit wiser than the fellow talked to, still it is a mode of threshing out questions of concern, blowing away chaff and getting at the golden grain of common sense and reality.

It is conceded by everyone interested in the welfare of a community that there must be a certain spirit of public pride, a hopeful tone, an uplifting note in the local atmosphere in order to make progress and bring about success. With these qualities the individual is almost sure to concede he is endowed, but he blames the other fellow or the lack of concerted action on the part of his associates, if results do not reflect credit on his community.

As a matter of fact the personal equation is too strong in most places to rise above the petty criticisms of each other and where there is this barrier, Chambers of Commerce and other bodies organized to do good work, begin to squeak, rust out and finally are relegated to the scrap heap. It may be true that Boards of Trade are like ballons and must be inflated with hot air and kept up, but while they are afloat there is the accompanying representation, the name they blazon is discernible and they come in for a lot of attention. A Board of Trade is a means to an end and an end to the means spells extinction.

Concerted action and cooperation are essential, not merely at the launching of such enterprises, but all the way through to keep afloat and to get results. Money must be subscribed in the right spirit and with regularity. Spasmodic attacks of enterprise are a waste of the worst kind, because in this age of competition, where communities have brushed the chips off their shoulders and are boosting with consistency and efficiency, the one-lunger is a joke. Do not wheeze along but take on a good cargo of gasoline and you will arrive.

Communities clique up and each group lends itself to the furtherance of some features of community life but they often overlook the bigger idea of concentrating their zeal on a Chamber of Commerce or some such body, which could quicken the life of all the smaller organzations about it and bring to them new material, fresh impulse and coveted stability.

The bigger idea, the broader path is along these lines and its attainment possible by brushing off the chip from the shoulder that is never broad enough to carry such excess baggage.

Our Democratic friends are so agreeable to everything about the Progressive program, because by keeping the breach open in Republican ranks they have their only chance to score. It is about time that every voter with a drop of Republican blood in his veins should refuse to wear a bull moose label and declare his faith in some of his own kind. They make them just as good when they make them Republicans as any other kind. There is no corner in this creation business, whereby the righteous material all goes into one camp. Some Democrats could be preachers and many Socialists could pass a Billy Sunday examination.

The Pan-American Conference has decided to recognize Carranza in Mexican affairs and Villa declares he will resist to the finish. Out of the frying pan into the fire!

The non-partisan law to be voted on next week is decried by Progressives themselves. The Oakland Enquirer says it will do away with the Progressive party. Vote against it and stop their freak attempts at legislative tinkering.

Sonoma's Visitors to Fair Enjoying Different Features of the Big Show

Sonoma's pilgrimage to the Exposition continues with increased fervor each week and the returning visitors all report delightful and instructive hours spent amid the flowery courts and splendid palaces which after the 4th of December will be but never-to be forgotten memories.

Among those who went down recently were Miss Florence Murphy and her mother. They attended the John Barry lecture "On the Meaning of the Exposition" at Festival Hall and also witnessed the presentation of the loving cup to John McLaren and his son on McLaren Day, the cup having been subscribed by contributions of dimes, inagurated by the "Call Post." Mrs. Murphy said the ceremonies, with their attendant speech making, warm responses and Scottish music were particularly impressive and demonstrative of the high regard felt for the wonderful landscape gardener who designed the Fair grounds.

Mrs. H Wicker was particularly enthusiastic over the horse show which attracted a great crowd who seemed as keen for the fine equines as for any motors ever made.

Mrs. Olga Gordenker, a prominent club woman and civic worker from the upper end of our valley, enthused over the architectural conception of the Expositian and is making a detailed study of this side of it. She took her departure to-day for another visit and will continue her detour through the Italian and French pavilions and also the Phillipine educational exhibit which interests her particularly because of her son's work in the Islands.

Mrs. Carrie Burlingame, who is a judge of fine horses, was another enthusiast, who praised the Horse Show and enjoyed the many interesting days during this smart event.

OH YOU DUFFY!

"Duffy" Lewis is the bright particular star of the Worlds Series and it is flattering to think that the thoughts of this hero are often turned toward his "Little Gray Home In The West," which is nearing completion at Boyes Springs and toward which he will be soon speeding. The Worlds Series will be continued out here and "Duffy" will let 'em know there is somebody home, when he arrives.

BELL SENTIMENT GROWS EACH DAY

Benefit for Purchase of Joyous Call to Duty Recalled by Former School Pupils

A most interesting phase of the school bell discussion is that which recalls a benefit for the purchase of the bell many years ago, the memory of which has stirred the sentiment of those who participated in the entertainment and makes them particularly fond of the familiar call to duty.

Mrs. N. J. Heggie and Mrs. A. Pauli, then school girls at the Grammar School, each had a part in the benefit and $96 was realized for the purchase of the bell. They have a deep feeling for it and would like to see it grace the new building and ring on through the years to come. The entertainment was a pantomine production of the poem "Ginevra" and was given in Weyl's Hall to a large and appreciative audience

Miss Minnie Rufus read the poem and the title role in the pantomine was enacted by Mrs. Pauli, then Miss Ada Lyons, who as the bride Ginevra, hides away in a trunk, ne'er to be found for fifty years when her hiding place and skull are discovered. The tragic Florentine story was beautifully costumed with the court dress of the period and was most realistic, even to the skull which was a real one excavated by workmen, then building the first railroad into Sonoma.

Among those who participated in principal parts of the pantomine were E. Cutter, who took the part of the father of the bride and Frank Levine as the minister.

Others who favor the keeping of the school bell on our new $30,000 building are Mrs. Adler, president of the Native Daughters, Mrs. H. Appleton, Mrs. L. S. Simmons, Mrs. S. Ciucci. Mrs. L Breitenbach believes that if utility does not demand the bell it should have an honored place in the new building as a memento.

Social Evening for Trinity Parishioners

About thirty-five members of Trinity Episcopal Church met together at the F. T. Duhring home Tuesday The evening was devoted to business discussion and later to a general social time, which was so thoroughly enjoyed by all present, that the ladies and gentlemen of the parish decided to make the meetings a monthly feature. Mrs Duhring inagurated a musical contest, which proved highly entertaining to those participating and Mrs H Foster gave a reading in which her charming personality played no small part

Rev. W. T. Holt is promoting much sociability among his congregation.

ELECT OFFICERS AND FEAST ON RAVIOLI

The Moose Social Club had a very enjoyable meeting Monday night at which they elected the following officers: President, Geo. Stickle; Secretary, and Treasurer, Roy Pauli; Trustees, W. Russell and E. Cotes.

The evening concluded with a ravoli feast and to say the boys did justice to the good 'eats" would be putting it mild. Four hundred ravioli were served to the twenty five members present and there was not as much as a scallop left in ten minutes. The ravoli were prepared by Mrs. Pera, who was highly complimented on her good cooking by the appreciative bunch around the banquet board.

EVERLASTING YOUTH IS UNCLE DAN'S

Professor Dan Smith, familiarly known as "Uncle" Dan and a guest at M. Silversteins, favored this office with a social call on Wednesday. He is the disciple of everlasting youth and has been a teacher of physical culture and lecturer on hygienics for many years. At the present time he confesses to 83 years and his clear eye and sprightly step makes his determination to out do the century plant seem most probable. He advocates right living and big thinking but is no extremist, believing with the ancients, that moderation in all things, mental and physical, will result in the perfect balance which we should all attain.

Uncle Dan has been in a company with Joe Knowles on a lecture tour and given poses illustrative of his physical culture work.

He has just shaved off his beard and with a boyish smile announced that he was a candidate for matrimony despite his 83 years and wanted the cooperation of the press to get a Sonoma Valley girl of about his own age for a wife. He is no stranger here, having been in Sonoma in 1846 and again in 1871.

Chamber of Commerce Has No Quorum, No Secretary

Mrs. F. Koenig Tenders Resignation at Meeting on Monday Night and No Election of Officers Is Held

Chamber of Commerce
"Some" world beater
Got a secretary and couldn't keep her
Wide awake yet as if blind
They'd send her out and make her find
Money long since owed as dues,
It's no wonder she refused.
Going begging is this snap
Who for it will set his cap?

It is a sad story mates! The Sonoma Valley Chamber of Commerce met Saturday night and there was not a corporals guard present although it was the date of the annual election of officers and the appointment of Mrs. Frank Koenig as secretary had presaged a new lease of life for the booster organization. However some dissension had arisen in the ranks and the lack of harmony was apparent in the small attendance and in the resignation which Mrs. Koenig tendered in which she stated that for the sake of harmony she felt called on to resign. It appears that her appointment, entirely unsought for by her, while highly satisfactory to the community and the directors had ocassioned some feeling among other aspirants for the place, with the result that she decided to drop her intended plans rather than cause a breach in the organization. The resigning secretary wanted thorough cooperation and unison and fearing that this would not be given, her resignation was offered.

The first cloud on the horizon appeared when secretary John Piccetti resigned and unkind comment made of his tenure in office although he had worked gratuitoously for the organization and spent his time and money in carrying on promotion work. His friends resented the criticism and lost interest. Then came the appointment of Mrs. Koenig and some disappointed ones after the secretary ship were not good losers. As a result dissension in the ranks was marked and the meeting Monday night resulted in nothing further than a call for secretary by October 25th when an appointment will be made from the applicants on file by that date. Those present at the meeting, whose attendance was not sufficient to hold the annual election of officers, were President Thomson; Directors Duhring, Gobar, LaTorres. Prestwood and one member L. H. Green.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT AT PETALUMA

A tennis tournament was held in Petaluma Saturday, between players from the Sonoma High School and Petaluma High's crack team. Three sets were played on the fine court of the Fairbanks residence two singles and one double. The matches were exciting, but the Sonoma boys were out played.

Those who went from here were John Duhring, Harold Hotz, Joe McMullen, Murray Foster, Bunker Dresel, Sydney Cameron and Professor Tracy. The trip was made in the Hotz car.

They were met upon their arrival by Professor Binkley and a reception committee from the Petaluma school, who accorded them a most hearty reception. They were entertained at lunch and shown through the fine new High School building, of which Petaluma is so proud.

WATER MATTER TO COME UP SOON

Judge Seawell has set the hearing in the case of the City of Sonoma vs. Sonoma Valley Light & Power Company for the twenty fifth of this month on which day testimony will be taken to determine just what an equitable apportionment will be in the matter of distribution of water from the various sources in controversy.

The case grew out of the Sonoma Valley Water Light & Power Company's taking water from certain wells in the City of Sonoma thereby lessening the supply of those owning wells in the vicinity which had been in existance before the entrance of the new water concern in the field.

Judge Seawell issued an injunction stopping the lowering of the water supply, but reopened the case for the purpose of determining apportionment considering the uses to which tho water is to be applied and locality where it is to be used.

"Is my small army of fanatics keeping up their morale?"

"Yes, madam."

"Have orders been given that all our foreign guests, including ambassadors, ministers and high plenipotentiaries, who are accustomed to wine upon their tables, shall be duly insulted and forced to drink grape-juice?"

"Yes, madam."

"Have you duly advised and instructed my representatives, both men and women, that they must make themselves as offensive as possible to everybody?"

"I have, madam."

"Then pull down the blinds, detach the front-door bell and bring me a highball and a package of cigarettes."—Life, Sept. 9th.
